Comments

“ I was not a widow and my son was not an orphan, but Tim reached out to me and my son after my divorce and after my own father passed away. He stepped right in and became a father figure to me. I will cherish our time together and from all our dinners and talks, I will remember above all that he lived his life to the fullest, had a love for his children like no other and never regretted a day in his life.
You will be missed greatly Tim.
I Love You Always
