“ I had the pleasure to work with Angela at DynaTen where she worked in the estimating dept. She was always so bubbly and happy and was just a joy to be around. She so loved her family and children. Her great sense of humor will be missed. May God be with and help the family through this sad time. God Bless.

“ Ther are so many memories we have Of Angie and her family. One of our most often talks about our memory is when she was upset about a pickup truck driving to fast in the neighborhood and Angie ran from her front door area all the way to the middle of the street and slap the top of that boy's hood of his truck and hollered at him to slow down as he passes thru here as she had children playing around here. She always fought to protect her children. She backed down from no one when it came to her kids.

She didn't let the fact that she was an amputee keep her from living life. Her sense of humor got her through at lot of tough times. She would talk to me on the phone often when she lived across from the street. I ask her one time what she was doing and she said I'm painting 5 toenails. I ask why only five? Duh well that was all she had. My point in that story is that even though she had only one foot you would forget as she was more active with one leg than alot of people with both their legs.

Angie could make you laugh. She should of been a comedy writer as her oringals saying would make you laugh. She love to laugh and I will always remember her for that.

I will always remember you Angie and your family.
