“ Annette: You will always be remembered by your lovely 1p36 family. You were such a special angel. You must be so happy in Heaven. This is from Rev 21:3-And I heard a loud voice from the throne saying, "Now the dwelling of God is with men, and he will live with them. They will be his people, and God himself will be with them and be their God. 4He will wipe every tear from their eyes. There will be no more death or mourning or crying or pain, for the old order of things has passed away."

Your 1p36 Family love you very much even if we did not meet here on hearth we will in Heaven.

“ Heather and Joey, I can't imagine the pain and grief you are going through now. I know you both loved Annette so much, and you both were so patient with her. She will be missed by all who loved her.

Keep your focus on each other, Ashley and God. Time will heal the pain, but Praise God you will have the ability to remember Annette forever.

She will be missed, being only six years old, she made a huge impact on so many lives. I will be one to also misses her.

Sleep Tight Annette, on the Angels Wings.

“ I am so sorry for your loss. To lose anyone close to you is extremely sad, but to lose such a precious young angel is extremely devastating...
Please remember that Annette is in Good Hands and she will watch you all from above.
My prayers are with you all.

“ I remember Heather telling me about Annette making a father's day card for her daddy. The words on it were You are my sunshine. I thought that was so precious. Annette was very much loved and had a wonderful Mommy and Daddy who did an amazing job taking care of her. She was a little angel that God loaned to us for a very short time but she touched many hearts while she was here.
In my thoughts and prayers.
Hugs

“ Little precious Angel. How exactly much we all loved you from afar may never be known...but we did. We mommas and grandmas thought of you everyday. I remember what your momma told me about how you looked at her and daddy when they were all dressed up for the "grown-up prom". My biggest regret is never getting to meet you in person, never getting to take you out for a ride in your little chair, never getting to see you smile, never getting to give you that popsicle...I always thought that a popsicle would make you so happy, I guess that is what Grannys always think! I am sorry for all that you had to endure sweetie...I am sorry that our country sent your daddy away again to war...I am sorry he wasn't there with you when you went with Jesus...I admire you so little angel...the way you waited for daddy to come home from that other deployment and how this time it just didn't work out that way...I loved getting updates and I just beamed when I heard how much you loved 1st grade. Bless your little heart Annette, now go play with the other baby angels, run, you are free from your chair now, free from your illnesses, run baby girl, have fun, you so deserve that and ask God for one of those popsicles...no little child should be unable to take their own nourishment by mouth, I am so sorry that they could never get that figured out for you again...sigh.. And thank you little one for the sacrifice you made of allowing your Daddy to go to war for our country...I just wish someone had realized how much you wanted him at home with you and let him stay behind with you. God Bless you Joey and Heather...sigh. I still just cannot believe this happened, even with all my faith, I still cannot believe it...we loved you little Annette and we always will. “ My heart goes out to your family. I know a piece has left you but GOD will fill the empty spot the devil stole away. Remember we all walk in victory because of what Jesus already did for us and one day you will be holding your precious baby again and walking together in victory. But for now she needs you to keep walking in Victory on earth as she waits for you to join her in GODs time! I send my love and great big hugs. Tina Westbrook
