

Lorene Richardson

July 24, 1924 - June 5, 2006

Lorene Bostick Richardson, 81, who lived a full and highly respected life and engaged in a career that included her retirement as a bank bookkeeping supervisor from a large Dallas bank, passed away Monday, June 5, 2006, in Arlington. Lorene was a loving Christian wife, mother, grandmother, great-grandmother and sister. Her pride and joy was her family, and her passion for them resulted in her establishing many traditions that will be carried on in her temporary absence from them. She loved to cook and always celebrated birthdays, Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays by having her family into her home for those important times in her life. She was a wonderful cook. She will be greatly missed, and her loss will be felt deeply by all who knew and loved her. A glorious reunion and family get together is planned. She was a faithful member of the Church of Christ and attended the congregation on New York Avenue. Lorene was born July 24, 1924. She married William L. Richardson on Dec. 20, 1944. Their union was the result of God's direction in their lives as the husband of her cousin arranged a blind date, leading to a 61-year happy and wonderful marriage. They each served their country during World War II, she by working in civilian life on a military base and he by his military position during the war. She was preceded in death by her parents, George Wesley and Sarah Addie Coward Bostick; brother, John Bostick; sister, Sarah Massey; and a granddaughter, Rebecca Johnson. Survivors: Husband, William "Bill" Richardson of Arlington; son, Dave Richardson and wife, Patricia, of Arlington; daughter, Patricia Travis and husband, Robert, of Arlington; grandchildren, Dana and Joel Judd of Keller, Kimberly Richardson of Arlington, Hollye and Paul Marlow of Colleyville, Kelly and Michael Cook of Arlington, Rebecca Travis of Arlington, Rachel and Ron Rader of Fort Worth and Mike Travis of Cocoa Beach, Fla.; great-grandchildren, Kathryne, Kaleb and Karolyne Judd, Kaston and Karter Marlow, Cole and Will Cook, Raevyn and Robyn Rader and Michael E. Travis; brother, George Bostick of Yukon, Okla.; and several cousins, nieces and nephews.

Memorials: In Search of the Lord's Way Ministry, Box 371, Edmond, Okla. 73083-0371.

“ Wow Grandmother! You have been gone just over a year and I still miss you just as much as I did then. I now live in your house and feel your presence everyday. I know you were with me this morning when I was in my office. I could smell your sweet smell. Thank you. I need that sometimes when I get scared. I love you so much.

“ Happy Birthday to my loving grandmother! We will be celebrating your birthday tonight in your memory at Catfish Sam's and then going and visiting you out at the cemetery. Your birthday just won't be the same this year without you. Watch over us today with your loving arms as i know today will be hard as we all know that we should be talking to you either on the phone or in person today.

“ Bill, I was stunned with news of Lorene's recent illness and now grieve of her passage with you. She was such a beautiful person and you were blessed to have shared such a long and abundant life together.

I hope after this shock has eased that we can meet for the first time and reflect together on your many memories of Lorene. You and I have many common bonds embedded many years ago. Sharing and exploring together those memories and their ramifications would hopefully be helpful in giving our past and future life more perspective.

Best wishes from a long lost relative,

“ Though I never met Lorene, reading about her moved me. She sounds like such a wonderful woman. I know she must have had a great influence in all of your lives. Patricia, though we have never met personally, having corresponded all these years, I know what a loving and selfless person you are - surely a tribute to the way your mom raised you. I am so very very sorry - and send my deepest condolences to all family members.

“ Patricia & Family ~ I'm sorry for this sad day and would like you to know you have friends all over that will be thinking of you and sending you Peace to aid your hearts in the days ahead. Patricia, if the love and caring that you have so consistently shown to so many others is a result of what your parents passed to you in teaching, then your Mom must have had a heart the size of Texas. I'm glad she had a full, long life to share with you, and you with her. My condolences for the tears and sad moments your Mom's passing will bring. May there be many smiles and quiet laughs among the tears as your memories lift your hearts. Godspeed to your Mom.

“ My thoughts are with you as you go through this difficult time. Let all of your wonderful memories continue to fill your heart and eventually the tears you are shedding now will turn into smiles for the wonderful woman that she was and all the years you were able to share with her.

Can Not See You~But Feel You

Can not see you with my eyes
But I feel you with my heart.

Even though you are not by my side
We are not far apart just a few steps to Heaven

You were an Angel here on earth
Now you are an Angel in Heaven

You walked with God here on earth
Now you are in Heaven holding God's hand

“ I have so many memories of my grandmother. She was very kind and loving to her family. We were always very important her. I can remember the countless nights of staying at her house and waking up in the morning and her having set out bowls, cereal, milk, and glasses for our breakfast. She always made Christmas', birthdays, Thanksgivings special. She always was making sure everyone was ok even up to the day she died. She always put the health of others before hers. She is dearly missed today and will be missed always. Grandmother i love you so much and will always remember you and the wonderful memories you have blessed me throughout my life.
