

Ronald Miller

April 5, 1985 - May 28, 2009

MANSFIELD - Ronald Wayne "Ronny" Miller, also known as "Superman," went to be with the one Heavenly Father on Thursday, May 28, 2009. Ronald was born at Parkland Hospital in Dallas on April 5, 1985, the son of Rodney and Kimberly Miller. He graduated from Mansfield High School and was pursuing a career as a correctional officer. Survivors include his Son, Joe Anthony; parents, Rob and Kim Miller; brothers, Christopher and Dakota; sister, Amanda; grandparents, Oscar and Mary Gonzales of San Antonio and Frankie and Linda Miller of Grand Prairie and many other family members and friends.

Comments

“ Ronnie you always let me kick with yall evn though yo were 4 years older. You always had my back and stood by me. You were an amazing guy and you are missed already. My prayers go out to Dakota.

Zack Lay - June 01, 2009 at 11:04 PM

“ You will always be loved and in our hearts.

Michelle and Joe - June 01, 2009 at 09:46 PM

“ Ronnie, you will be greatly missed, we love you and one day will see you again.....Kim, Rob&Dakota, we would like to tell you we love you all and if you ever need anything, please call.

Love always,
Bro.Stack & Mom

Bro.Stack&Mary Uselton - June 01, 2009 at 06:10 PM

“ My thoughts and prayers are with you during this difficult time. God Bless

Amy Butcher - June 01, 2009 at 10:13 AM

“ We were each other's first kiss. My husband at age five. We played ninja turtles and you always made me be April. We'd play army and I was the nurse, you were the fighter, and always made Matt get hurt so you could be his hero. You came to every one of my birthday parties. Taught me how to play spin the bottle and truth or dare. You'd always be the first to go for a kiss at dare. I'll always miss you.

Cris - May 31, 2009 at 08:36 PM