“ I still can't believe Bruce isn't just on another business trip and will be home soon. He always looked forward to this time of year especially Thanksgiving. I don't know why he left when he had so many reasons to live and love. Bruce was loyal to his friends and family and would do anything for them. He very rarely asked for anything in return. He was such a positive influence on my son.

“ Dear Eddie, I worked closely with Bruce for many years. He was a true gentleman. His calm and thoughtful manner guided us through many difficult times. I hope to use the lessons, that I learned from Bruce, to get through these times. I pray that you and your family can do the same.

“ Eddie and Michael, I am so sorry for your loss and have been praying for you. I have worked with Bruce for as long as he's been at daly (Infor), and his loss has hit both me and my husband hard. I often called on Bruce to help in our sales cycles, and he was always ready to do whatever we needed, as quickly as we needed it, and with a smile- regardless of whatever else that he had going on. His work was top notch, his spirit was willing and I could always count on him. We had dinner over the summer at the customer site that led him to Eddie more than 10 years ago on a plane (Perez Trading). He gave so much to our company and customers, and touched our lives along the way with his easy going, even keeled spirit. We will miss him dearly and will continue to keep both Bruce and your family in our thoughts and prayers. - Stephanie and Jon Waters

“ I worked with Bruce for the past 12 years. Without exception, Bruce was a professional and represented our company well. He was responsible and always strived to provide the best results for his customers. Only recently I got to know Bruce on a more personal level. It turns out we shared many common interests and activities outside of the workplace. I wish Bruce and I could have spent more time together building our friendship, but I am thankful for the time we spent together. My sympathies to his wife and family. God bless.

“ Bruce and I worked together and for the last 14 years. He always had a smile, and even if frustrated, he was always patient and kind. Any question I ever had for him, he never found ridiculous. I can still hear him chuckle -everytime he called me in Tech Support and we will all miss him dearly. Everyday. Find peace in knowing that he has also. There are no answers, only acceptance.

“ I have worked with Bruce for many years here at Infor, and have so many fond memories. I appreciate the comments Marc left for Eddie, about "how to eat an elephant" - and it is a good message for all of us - one bite at a time - one day at a time.

I smile as I remember the picture of Bruce in Sir Lanka feeding an elephant at the orphanage - he just had to point out he was the one on the left - and make us all smile. I miss his humor. He was always kind, polite, considerate - and even in his seriousness - always found a way to make us laugh.

May God comfort all of us, as we face each day. We all miss Bruce more than we can say, as he touched us all in a special way.

“ I will always remember Bruce for the way he came and helped me when I ran my first marathon in 1994. I didn't think I would be able to finish -- it was so hard at the 20th mile. He showed up out of nowhere and ran alongside and encouraged me. Because of that, I was able to finish. It was the thrill of a lifetime, and he was there for me. I still think about it.
Bruce will be missed.

“ Don't have memories of Bruce, per se, except those imparted by my sister Eddie. My heart goes out to all who knew and loved him, but especially my dear kid sister. Only time will ease your pain, Eddie, and the mysteries of life's twists and turns are often not revealed until we return to our own spiritual origin. Know, though, that you are not alone, as he walks with you still, while your real friends and family remain devoted to your well-being. How do you eat an elephant? A bite at a time. Try not to deal with too much at once, but all in due time. Love you. Call anytime.

“ I knew Bruce in college and have great memories of him. He had a great smile and character about him that was one in a million. I can see him right now in my mind and will miss him. His bouncy step and keen wit will always be with me. It saddens me that I did not know him in his adult life. I pray for his family and friends to be comforted. I am sure God has a plan for Bruce.
