“ Bruce,

*Bruce was Bruce, a different kind of man..
A good man, not always easy to understand.
He loved Patsy, his wonderful wife..
And for her, he would lay down his life.
He talked about her at great length..
I believe she was what gave him such great strength.
Strength to work, strength to live..
And for her, everything he would give.
He loved all the Grandkids, his fishin buddy was Dylan..
When not out fishin, he would just be at home,chillin'.
Patsy was there beside him all thru their marriage..
Evident to all, each other they did cherish.
He has gone on now, and has left this place..
Until one day, we will meet again, face to face.*
