

Clifford Gall

August 13, 1953 - March 5, 2009

GRAPEVINE -- Clifford Alan Gall passed on to his eternal life Thursday, March 5, 2009. Funeral: 3 p.m. Saturday at Lucas Funeral Home, 700 W. Wall St., Grapevine. Interment: Grapevine Cemetery. He was married to his high school sweetheart, Marsha Bussey Gall, for 33 years. He was always adventurous, always willing to try anything. He loved all of the outdoors, bow hunting, fishing, painting, writing poetry, fast cars, trips to Mexico with friends, passionate about pets, especially his pet turtles, as well as working in his yard. He was definitely a character, the first to play a practical joke on people. He was a loyal employee of Raytheon for 29 years.

Tribute Wall

LE

“ I will never forget all the trips to Telephone, especially when we had all the kids with us!!!

Lesli - March 09, 2009 at 04:38 PM

TR

“ We will never forget our trip to mexico with cliff, marsha, paula and mike, kevin and brenda! And some other get togethers. Cliff was not only funny and fun to be around but he was a very kind man. Im so sorry Marsha you have lost him at such a young age. Please know our thoughts and prayers are with you. sincerely, Beth ans Tony

Tony Barrett and Beth Russell - March 07, 2009 at 12:58 PM

RC

“ His light shown bright. His spirit was brighter. My thoughts and prayers.

Randy Crabtree

Randy Crabtree - March 06, 2009 at 05:19 PM

KE

“ Character, yes, practical joker, yes, true, true friend, definitely! He will be missed by all who knew him.

Jimmy and Kathi Elmore

Kathi Elmore - March 06, 2009 at 01:40 PM