

ELLEN WILLIAMS

May 16, 1913 - January 23, 2007

FORT WORTH -- Ellen Siemon Williams, 93, a loving mother, passed in to peace Tuesday, Jan. 23, 2007, at a local hospital. ♂ Funeral: Faith Presbyterian Church in Cape Coral, Fla. Burial: Mrs. Williams' cremated remains will be placed in the Rose Garden in Coral Gables, Fla. ♂ Memorials: Consideration of contributions to a charity of choice in memory of Ellen is suggested. ♂ She celebrated over 93 loving years with families and friends, finding fullness in life and strength from her Christian faith. ♂ After her recent move from Cape Coral, Fla., to Fort Worth, she met warm and loving friends at Westminster Presbyterian Church and was visited several times by Dr. Donald Hogg. ♂ She was liked by all and treated with love and respect at Harris Methodist Southwest Hospital and Broadway Plaza Healthcare Center the past three months. ♂ Ellen was preceded in death by two loving husbands, Horace R. "Red" Drummond and Bert Williams; brother, Robert T. Siemon; parents, Charles H. and Ethel T. Siemon. ♂ Survivors: Daughter, Kenly Drummond of Jupiter, Fla.; son, Roger Drummond and his wife, Ann Frankland of Fort Worth; loving feline companion, Patches; Ann Frankland's family in Texas and Virginia; sister-in-law, Margaret W. Siemon of Lake Worth, Fla.; the Siemon families of Charles and Lolly, James and Maria, Robbie and Kay, George and Jane and Margie; church families at Cypress Lake Presbyterian in Fort Myers, Fla., Faith Presbyterian Church in Cape Coral, Fla. and Westminster Presbyterian in Fort Worth.
