“ I will always remember Erika. She made me feel special the day she said that she liked the blue ribbon I was wearing in my hair (" a big girl actually liked something I had"). I still have that blue ribbon and will always keep it to remember her. I will always smile when I remember Erika. She was a beautiful girl with a beautiful smile.

“ Erika, it's hard to accept you're gone. When I heard you were sick, I don't know why but I was just so convinced you'd get better, there wasn't a doubt in my mind...

I remember I had many wonderful memories with you, but I know the one that was most memorable to both of us was that time we went to Disneyland and we started stalking these two guys. lol We were what, 14, 15 years old? I still remember how mad Andy was, and I remember the look on his face when he yelled, "Nooo!" lol The only thing I regret is that I didn't get to know you better, and that we never took that second trip to Disneyland like we talked about doing so long ago. I know we will meet again, maybe not in this life and maybe not any time soon, but I'll see you again cuz, till then, it was an honor getting to know someone who was as wonderful a person as you. Rest in peace now Erika, you will be missed.

“ May God be with the family during such a hard time. The way that Ms. Guerrero talks about her children she just glows. I am sad for the family and my heart goes to them.

“ I give the family of this young girl my deepest sympathy. I have two small children of my own and I could not imagine having to handle such a loss. She has done her job here on this Earth and has moved on to a much better place to be your gurdian angel. Again, your family has my deepest condolences and you are in my prayers.
