“Ginger was my only niece, and what a very special young lady she had become. She knew what she wanted in life and had it all, a loving husband, a precious son, a beautiful home, a rewarding career as a teacher and a supportive family around her. My dear sister, Carolyn, my heart aches for your loss of your beautiful baby girl, Ginger. And Benjamin I know you made Ginger very happy with your love and Ginger will always live in our hearts and through Ian we will always have a piece of Ginger to hold on too.

“Ginger was a very effective and well organized teacher. You could tell it from the moment you step foot in her classroom. Though I didn't know her well outside of school, I can tell that she touched many lives outside of school, and that she was an amazing person to all who loved her. She will truly be missed.

“Ginger popping in my room just to check on me, asking if I'd thrown anything in the recycling box lately. A great baseball texting buddy.

“Ginger was such a loving and caring person. Her smile would brighten up the whole room. She had that ability to make you feel better when you were down and make you feel that it will all be okay. She was adored by her students past and present as well as all the faculty that she has worked with. She was just an all-round good person who has made a difference in my life! I am so glad that I had the opportunity to work with Ginger and get to know her as a person.

God bless her family and all my prayers are with you in this time of sorrow.

“Ginger Snaps”this is the loving name I gave Ginger. I first met Ginger in the ISD when she was a CIS socialworker. I instantly found out what a treasure of God she was. I love her, I miss her and she will always live in my heart.

“ From the moment I met Ginger as a college freshman to her last moments of life, she was someone so special to me. She was my sorority sister, pledge mom, co-worker, roommate for 5 years, and most importantly she was my best friend. I remember the day she came home with a glow on her face and told me about this really cute guy named Benjamin, she just couldn't stop gushing. Thank you Benjamin for being the best husband to Ginger and father to Ian as I know she loved you and Ian more than you can ever imagine. Carolyn, Mike and James, I love you dearly and know you are hanging on as best as you can right now. I am here for you anytime you need anything. I will always remember Ginger's laughter and all of the great times I had with her, she and I really had some unforgettable adventures together. I will miss her dearly and will think of her everyday and take comfort in knowing we will one day see each other again but until that day comes I am praying for all of her family and especially Ian. I love you Ginger and I will see you again one day so save me a space up there next to you as I know we will have so much catching up to do. Praying for you Benjamin, Ian, Carolyn, Mike and James.

“Ginger was a gift to us all. Her smile was as bright and contagious. It was a joy to watch how happy she was when she was with Benjamin. They personified love. I am glad they had each other...I am glad I knew her...be with God! Share that smile with the angels! My prayers are with you.

“To Carolyn & Mike,
We hate that you are having to go through this awful time. We know what you are going through this very moment and from now on. It doesn't get any easier. Please just know we love you and when you want to talk we are here for you.

“ My thoughts and prayers are with Ginger's husband, family and friends. I pray that with time you'll be able to find peace and comfort in our Lord. I feel very blessed to have worked with Ginger from 2002-2004 at Manual Jara Elementary, but her greatest gift to me was her friendship and the comfort and peace she brought to my life during a difficult time. She will be greatly missed by all who knew her. I will always remember her beautiful smile.

“ To Ginger, her dear family and friends,
Ginger was a special young lady that took my daughter, Jennifer Lee, under her wings while they attended UNT together and they became best of friends. Ginger will be missed by all. We can take comfort in knowing that Ginger is with her Maker and that he has special plans for her. May God bless her family, give them strength to ensure that her young child knows what a great person she was and give them peace knowing that one day they too can rejoice in heaven with their darling Ginger thru their love of Jesus Christ. All our love, The Lee Family.
