“ To the man who taught me to fish, to shoot a gun, to change a tire and work on a car, to build a tree house, to use the proper tool for the job, to get up and go to work even when you don't want to, To be responsible for your actions, to stand up for what is right, admit when you are wrong. To lighten up, enjoy life! In other words, this is for the man who taught me to be a man. I love you dad, Richard

“ I spent much time when I was little with my Uncle Wesley & Aunt Carol. Uncle Wesley gave me my first kitten for my 8th Birthday. I named him Buddy. He was the best cat ever. I can remember going to the movies in Cleburne and they ran ads before the movie started and one was for Forest Chevorlet. I would wait for that ad to run and say that is my Uncle Wesley right there in that ad. There are so many memories that I could gone on forever. He will be GREATLY missed.
