

JENNIE KRIESBERG

February 19, 1923 - February 21, 2007

FORT WORTH -- Jennie Kriesberg, 84, a loving mother and grandmother, died peacefully Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 21, 2007. ♂ Funeral: 2 p.m. Friday, Feb. 23, in Ahavath Sholom Cemetery. Rabbi Alberto Zeilicovich and Javier Smolarz, ritual director, officiating. ♂ Memorials: Mrs. Kriesberg's family requests that no flowers be sent. Consideration of contributions to Congregation Ahavath Sholom or a charity of one's choice is suggested. ♂ A native of Chicago, Ill., Jennie was born Feb. 19, 1923, the daughter of Sam and Lillie Kriesberg. She was married to Ed Kriesberg, who died in 2004. ♂ Jennie was an accomplished soloist who sang publicly and was known as the "Voice of Fort Worth." She was a 60-year member of Congregation Ahavath Sholom, and a lifetime member of Hadassah, B'nai B'rith and former president of the Ladies Auxiliary. ♂ Survivors: Daughter, Leslie Kriesberg Callis and John Palin of Austin; sons, Ricky Kriesberg and his wife, Gail, of Coral Springs, Fla., and Sandy Kriesberg and his wife, Jane, of Troy, Ohio; grandchildren, Dawn Kriesberg Goldstein and her husband, Dr. Zoie Goldstein, and Keith, Sean and Seth Kriesberg.

Robertson Mueller Harper ♂Funerals & Cremations ♂1500 Eighth Ave., 817-924-4233