“ I thought I would share this with you, in the hopes it will bring a smile to you. Once when your Dad and Ann were in Kansas for the summer I housesat for them. While they were gone there was a newspaper article about finding senior citizens "in the bushes" It was becoming a trend in SC. It made the front page of the SC newspaper. I wrote "Now I know why you kids had to leave town" on the top margin and left it on their counter. When they came home they laughed about it. Your dad said that people in Kansas would snicker when they found out he lived in SC and he couldn't figure out what was so funny. After he read the article he understood. He then said "We may not be able to go back to Kansas now". I loved his sense of humor. I hope you enjoyed the story.

“ John C. Hunter, what an inspirational man. What a generous man. So well versed and educated. I was so young when I met him. He was a mentor and Great Grand Father. When I think of him I'll always see that gleam in his eye and emerging smile on his face. I'm blessed to have known you. Rest my friend, we'll see you soon...

“ Blessings to the Groves/Perkins/Hunter family. Thinking of your Dad and one of the inscriptions at the World War II Museum:
"For a soldier's honor doesn't end with their death...
HONOR becomes their eternal legacy
An inheritance left to this earth and mankind
Of the blessings of freedom and peace"

“ There are so many wonderful memorys of Dad. I can go back many years but one of my favorite is walking in and Dad is sitting in his chair reading his news paper with Clyde Edward our dachshound sitting right with Dad. This was an everyday event as long as we had clyde.

“ To Ann, Bonnie and Hunter Families: It has been our special reward to have known John for many years. Les and I have wonderful memories of the good times with John at Bonnie's house and at the Groves' daughters' weddings. John was our special friend, a fine man and an honored military soldier who fought for peace and we were indeed fortunate to have been in his presence. May John have eternal peace knowing that he always did his very best as a loving husband, dad, granddad, great granddad and as a tenacious and vigilant soldier.

“ Our grandfather was a loving and honorable man. He died with many wonderful memories and a complete life. He will never be forgotten for all he did. I love you grandpa, thank you for always being there for us and always making sure we never went without. None of us would be who we are if it were not for your loving presence in our lives.

“ John reminds me of John Wayne. He was a man of few words, but when he spoke you listened or else. I only wish that John could've spent more time with us here at the Conservatory, but he's in a much better place now than he could ever find here on Earth.
