“ Mom- I love you so. You were so accepting and good to Marissa. She loves you more than words can express. I know you love her, and that you've heard her recent words to you. She looks toward the heavens a lot and talks to you. I know that you are extatic to know that your passing has brought her even closer to God. She said you better be sharing your "bit o' honey" candies with God. It is with love, respect, many fond memories, and thoughts of you walking and cooking that are getting us through this.
