“ My sweet Gran-Gran had a spirit in her that will live on in me. She was firm and yet gentle, feisty and yet compassionate. Having her in my life all these years has been a true blessing.

We had some wonderful times together in my childhood as well as my adulthood. She never tired of talking about her "grand babies" as she called myself and my brothers. We were her pride and joy to the end of her days.

Each of us grand kids traveled with her after she retired. Mom and I went with her on several "girl's trips" together which we all three treasure to this day.

God blessed her and our entire family, and now she is with Him.

“ My Prayer for GranGran

Lord thank you for blessing all of us with the gift of her long and full life. Even though her last six years were filled with suffering in many ways, she enjoyed much of her life with good health and a strong spirit.

I thank you for all of the wonderful traits that you blessed her with in her life here on earth. They not only made her life richer, they also impacted many of us. She demonstrated that working hard, enjoying the beauty that you made for us, especially the mountains and all the various flowers that she loved so much and maybe most importantly how giving both our time and full attention may be the best gift we can give anyone.

I also want to thank you for her ability to smile and take pleasure in the small things in life. I cannot count the number of times she smiled just hearing about something one of her great children said or did. Even in her last hours, when she could no longer communicate with us, she did a big old smile just hearing my voice.

I am thankful that not only is she now in your loving embrace, she is also with all of those that passed before her. She has been longing to see many of her loved ones again and now she can.

Please help everyone that she left behind here on earth be at peace with her passing because she is indeed in a better place now.

She has wanted to join you in heaven for a number of years now, and I grateful that her pain, suffering and frustration have come to an end.

In Jesus name we pray AMEN
