“ Robin was an amazing friend who reached out to me when I was diagnosed with Leukemia six years ago. She encouraged me, prayed for me and walked with me through my treatment. Midway through my treatment, she relapsed, and we continued to keep up with the various procedures we each were going through. I will always remember her caring support.

“ I was lucky to have Robin as my aunt, but blessed to have her as a friend and spiritual mentor. I will forever cherish our talks about God, relationships, and eternal hope. Her love, strength, and humility were truly awe-inspiring and anyone that met my Aunt Robin was made a better person for it. I know that today heaven is a happier place because she is back home. Thanks for modeling how a true Christian life should be lived, Aunt Robin. May you enjoy God's promises in Paradise!

“ In spite of all she was going through, Robin always asked about my family. She asked for prayers, but certainly never pity.
