“ I have known Clinton for almost thirty years now, he has always been steadfast in his love of family, and his commitment to the Church. I know he is in a better place now, reading a good book and visiting with loved ones.

“ I will always remember how he always had the greatest stories to tell. I always thought as a child that he knew everything. He was such an avid reader that I honestly think that I inherited some of that from him. I was always so impressed by his strength of conviction and his faith in God. I know now that he is in heaven hugging on my Grandmother and talking with my Grandfather. He will be sorely missed. He was a wonderful uncle; but foremost he was an OUTSTANDING asset to the human race. We should all strive to be more like him. God bless you Uncle Clinton. You are always in our hearts, thoughts, and prayers. WE love you much.
